Mid-Autumn Festival - "Parent-Child Mid-Autumn Celebration"

Objective(s)

- Through magic performances and booth games, children and parents can learn about the significance and characteristics of the Mid-Autumn Festival, experience the culture of Chinese festivals, and enjoy the joy of sharing the holiday with others.
- Through the parent-child Mid-Autumn celebration, children can appreciate the colorful lanterns and collectively feel the festive atmosphere, enhancing the parent-child relationship.

Brief Descriptions:

The activities on the day of the Mid-Autumn Festival were vibrant and filled with special decorations. Colorful lanterns and lights were hung up, and traditional Chinese music played in the background, creating a strong festive atmosphere. Various booths featuring Mid-Autumn specialties, such as mooncakes, the Jade Rabbit, and traditional snacks, surrounded the area. This allowed young children to learn about the meaning and characteristics of the Mid-Autumn Festival through interactive games at the booths. Additionally, we arranged a new magic show this year that incorporated different elements of the Mid-Autumn Festival, allowing parents and children to enjoy the performance while feeling the joyful festive spirit.

Besides the Mid-Autumn booths, the event also included tasting traditional Mid-Autumn foods, lantern-making, a lantern parade, and a photo area. Children could try special snacks for the festival and carry the unique lanterns they made with their parents to participate in the lantern parade. Furthermore, a riddle-guessing activity was held in the lobby, where children and parents eagerly participated and discussed the answers together, showing great enthusiasm.

This event allowed children and parents to understand the significance and characteristics of the Mid-Autumn Festival, experience the culture of Chinese festivals, and enjoy the joy of sharing the holiday with others.
