Snakes of Joy: Chinese New Year

Objective(s)

- To experience Chinese cultural traditions and the joy of sharing festivities through tasting Chinese snacks and visiting New Year markets.
- To feel the festive spirit and engage with traditional customs by making New Year crafts, lion dances, and group blessings.
- To offer opportunities for communication and bonding, strengthening parent-child relationships by joining the competition for New Year ornaments craft.

Brief Descriptions:

During the "Parent-Child New Year Ornament Design Competition," parents and children creatively used eco-friendly materials to make unique decorations. On the day of the celebration, families voted for awards such as "Best Environmental Awareness," "Most Creative," and "Best Parent-Child Collaboration," fostering creativity and interaction. The school held the event by inviting families to participate in interactive booths like "Shopping for the New Year," promoting collaboration, and "Good Fortune for the New Year," enhancing competitive fun. Various traditional snacks, including tang yuan, rice cakes, and turnip cakes, were available, along with a themed photo area for capturing precious memories.

Finally, the school organized the "Joyful Celebration for the Year of the Snake," featuring a children's lion dance show and group games like "Reunion" and "Golden Snake Fortune," immersing children in the festive atmosphere. The event included a tasting of reunion dinner dishes, introducing children to Chinese culinary culture. The celebration concluded with children performing New Year songs and greeting the principal, fully embracing the festive spirit and traditions.
