Name of Activity

Lunar New Year Celebration

Objective(s)

Through the activity, children can learn about and experience traditional Lunar New Year customs, and feel the festive atmosphere. They also learn to be grateful for the people and events of the past year, turn this gratitude into motivation, wish for a better year ahead, and give their blessings.

Brief Descriptions:

Through a variety of Lunar New Year activities, such as DIY fai chun (festive scrolls), lion dance crafts, and traditional festive foods, children can more directly learn about Chinese culture and, with teacher guidance, gain a basic understanding of the meanings behind different customs.

Through these activities, children learn to express gratitude to parents, teachers, and others around them, using simple language to offer blessings and thanks. The activities also help cultivate positive values and good character.

This activity successfully provided children with a day full of traditional festive cultural experiences. They not only deepened their understanding of the Lunar New Year and Chinese culture, but also developed positive qualities such as confidence, politeness, and gratitude through enjoyable interactions.
