Teachers, children, and parent volunteers arrived at the Fire and Ambulance Education Centre and Museum. They gathered in front of the fire engine at the entrance for a group photo. The teachers then led the children to the ground floor lobby to see antique fire engines and ambulances, learning about their historical evolution. Next, they moved to the exhibition areas on the 1st to 3rd floors, where they explored ambulance equipment, first-aid knowledge, uniforms and gear from different eras. They also watched short films outlining Hong Kong's major fires and rescue operations over the years. The group proceeded to the 4th-floor Education Gallery and outdoor viewing area overlooking the professional training grounds of the Fire and Ambulance Academy and observed firefighters in training. To wrap up the visit, the museum staff distributed commemorative stickers to the children.
